

please do not do anything to lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. you cannot imagine the numbers of calls that families receive at home in the evening, often, late evening. this is a time for families to relax and have meaningful conversation. phone calls at this time is a disruption to this important activity and a frustration. in a day and age that finds families going different directions during the day it is important to have this time to regroup and bond. thanks for listening.